LACIS MUSEUM OF LACE AND TEXTILES CELEBRATES THE SMITHSONIAN MAGAZINE'S 5TH ANNUAL MUSEUM DAY WITH THE OPENING OF THE EXHIBIT BOBBIN LACE

On Saturday, September 26, 2009, the LACIS MUSEUM OF LACE AND TEXTILES will participate in the fifth annual Museum Day, presented by Smithsonian magazine, an affiliate of the Smithsonian Institution, in a celebration of culture, learning and the dissemination of knowledge in all aspects of our cultural heritage.

On this occasion the LACIS MUSEUM OF LACE AND TEXTILES has set this date as the opening of an extraordinary exhibit, BOBBIN LACE, celebrating 500 years of one of the most humbling achievements of the human soul, with a presentation of the laces, the lace makers and lace making. Additional information can be found at www.LacisMuseum.org.

As with all other participating museums, admission is free. A Museum Day Admission Card is requested and required for entry at museums requiring an admission fee. Visit www.smithsonian.com/museumday to download your Museum Day Admission Card/

Listings and links to all participating museums' and sponsors' sites can be found at www.smithsonian.com/museumday.

The LACIS MUSEUM OF LACE AND TEXTILES is located at 2982 Adeline Street in Berkeley, across from the Ashby BART Station. Museum hours are 12:00 - 6:00PM Monday thru Saturday.
